From Your Pastor...

Let me say that I am so proud of our young people and their leaders! Youth Sunday was once again a wonderful example of all that is right with our youth today. I sense in them a real desire to know what it means to truly worship God. They have no desire for, or patience with, showy substitutes, but deeply desire to encounter the living God in worship. The Jesus of the Gospels is very real to them, and they want to share that with others! Granted, the media for presenting the Gospel changes with each generation, but the message of unconditional love is the same!

And speaking of "each generation," I was so pleased with the feedback we received after our "1st Decade" service two weeks ago. The first ten years of College Park were times when family and sacrifice were so vital to the future of the church.

Tough decisions were made to insure that College Park would continue to reach families in our community for many years to come. In many ways, you could say we are in the same circumstances today, and we will explore some of those issues during our "2nd Decade" service at the end of this month...stay tuned for more details.

This Sunday is Mother's Day, and a time in our church year when we pause and give thanks for the gift of children. It is also a time for each of us to remember that we, as a church, have a responsibility to help nurture the children in our midst. It truly is a blessing, and we invite you to be with us Sunday!

Blessings and peace...

Ramon

A NOTE FROM MARY

The church was not designed to be a reservoir, ever-receiving and retaining for itself God's spiritual blessings, but rather a conduit, conveying them on and out to others everywhere. -Robert Glover

I've been doing a little self-reflection lately, and I have to admit that my extroverted self does not really enjoy the process of self-reflection too much. I find it really draining. However, through it God is reminding me why I do what I do. While I could name dozens of reasons why I do what I do, ultimately, I know it is what God created me to do. Yes, it sounds cheesy even to me. It sounds a little too ministerial and pat. However, I am convinced that God has created each of us with a purpose. We may not all be called to vocational ministry, but we are called to serve. We are called to share the love of Christ with those we encounter each day. We are called to worship our God in such a way that others want to know what is different about us. We are called to live lives that express that God is our Father, Savior, Strength, and Purpose (thank you, Youth!). And so, I share the words of an old chorus with you:

*When I look into Your holiness,
When I gaze into Your loveliness,
When all things that surround become
shadows in the light of You,
When I've found the joy of reaching Your heart,
When my will becomes enthralled in Your love,
When all things that surround become
shadows in the light of You,
I worship You. I worship You.
The reason I live is to worship You.
I worship You. I worship You.
The reason I live is to worship You.*

IN TOUCH...with Jeff

Wheew! What an amazing week! The last week of April started with a Youth Choir tour and the exam pack delivery to many of our college students. This started the week with a bang. Then it got even better! I spent most of the week with some of our amazing preschool volunteers at the Orange Conference in Atlanta. While our small group was considering the next steps for our family ministry during this conference, many other people were in Winston preparing for one of the most significant weekends our family ministry has ever experienced.

So many people using so much energy and passion. I am thankful for EVERY second that EVERY person spent on making Choir Tour, Exam Packs, Youth Sunday, Spring Fling, and our BBQ Fundraiser such memorable experiences.

Sometimes in the midst of such a busy time it is easy to forget the purpose behind it all. While I admit some changes will be made as we evaluate everything that went on last week, the basic purpose remains true. God is not satisfied with where we are today. He wants us to never be complacent in seeking a deeper relationship with Him and seeing the world as a place that needs us to work diligently everyday to make this world brighter. Here is how a difference was made...

- Teenagers experienced a different kind worship during the choir tour
- College students felt God's love through the gift of food and time
- People of every age were moved as our youth designed, planned, and led our church in a God-honoring worship experience
- Guests of every age laughed and connected at our Spring Fling, exhibiting true community
- Over $3000 were raised that will be used to spread the love of God through youth missions

For every person who worked last week, know that God used you to make our world a place which reflects His love and power! I am thankful for your devotion to Him!

"History Highlight"

Rev. Walter L. Warfford was the Pilot Mountain Baptist Associational Missionary. In this capacity, Rev. Warfford led the weekly prayer meetings at the Shermer's home, and assisted in organizing the new Baptist Mission Sunday School. In fact, Rev. Warfford composed the letter to First Baptist Church which announced that the Mission Sunday School wanted to take the step to become constituted as a church. On October 1, 1950, Rev. Warfford became the first full-time pastor of College Park Baptist Church, and served as pastor until September 1, 1955.
