From Your Pastor...

This past Sunday we talked about what our response to God's grace should be. As part of that response, I am convinced that we should be actively seeking to share the love of Jesus with people every day. Now that sounds like a nice church phrase, "Share the love of Jesus." But when we examine what that really means, I believe it will, by necessity, draw most of us out of our comfort zones. It may also inconvenience our schedules or affect the way we spend our money and time. In order for the love of Jesus to be real in our lives, it may require sacrifices that we have never before imagined. And the nature of these sacrifices may be completely different for each of us. God created us as unique masterpieces, and His design was for His creation to give glory to Him, not us. In theory, I know we can all probably agree with everything I've just written...it's the "fleshing out" of these concepts that may be a little more difficult...

Let's covenant together this fall to talking less, and doing more when it comes to sharing the love of Christ! And the first question is usually, "Pastor, how do I do that?" I would love to give you a pat answer, but the reality is that each person needs to work out that aspect of their faith journey with the leadership of the Holy Spirit. I would suggest, however, that you look at the gifts and talents that God has given you as well as the interests that you have and see where you can use those gifts to glorify God and serve others. I admit it may be difficult to discern at first, but I am fully confident that it is worth the effort! I have some printed materials that may help you with discovering your gifts if you are interested.

Blessings and Peace,

Ramon
