From Your Pastor...

I was talking with a gentlemen at the YMCA last week, and in our conversation I was answering questions about how we did our last revival service on the front lawn. One of the other gentlemen in the locker-room heard the word “revival” in the conversation and came over and made the comment: “Revival?! I didn’t know anyone did revivals any more!” Then he asked me when our last revival was and I replied “last Sunday.” Then he responded, “Really...when is your next one?” To which I replied, “This Sunday!” And while I was just being clever, there is a great deal of intended truth in my response, because each Sunday should be a revival! When we come together as the body of Christ to worship together, it should revive our spirit! Part of that process of revival is turning lose of the things that have crept into our lives that keep us from worshipping the Father with our whole being. Confession, Thanksgiving, Adoration...all of these are a part of recognizing who we are before God! And as we recognize who we are before God it revives our spirit in a way that leads us to glorify Him through our speech and deeds! My prayer for us, as the body of Christ, is that we will rediscover the joy in serving Christ...if we have lost that fire! My prayer for us is that we would come together each Sunday with an excited anticipation that God is going to revive us personally and corporately!

See you this Sunday for our revival service!

Blessings & Peace,
Ramon

A NOTE FROM MARY

O God, your people have always had their fears. So we come to you in humility and with honesty, naming our own. Lord, we fear the future. What is coming next? "Will there be a place for me when I'm done with high school or college?" we young people ask. "Will there be safe places for our children?" we parents ask. "Will I live the rest of my life with peace and dignity?" we seniors ask.

Lord, we fear the pain that comes with illness and broken bones and aging. Some of us wonder how we're going to make it through more treatment and medication. Some of us wonder how we can possibly face chronic illness. Some of us wonder if prayers for healing even reach your throne. Physical pain frightens us.

Lord, as a church, we wonder about our ministries and programs. What if they don't "work"? What if outreach and faith nurture don't happen? We fear the dependence we have to have on your Spirit to be the one to breathe life into Christians and non-Christians.

Lord, we are afraid of people who are different from us: those more powerful than us, those poorer than us, those of a different color or creed, those smarter than us, those with different personalities. How do we talk to these people, O God? How do we make peace with them.

Lord, we have acquaintances, friends and family members whom we deeply love but who do not know you. We are afraid for their salvation.

We admit, O God, that we're fearful of stillness and quiet. It seems as if the last thing we want to do is slow down and be attentive to you. Help us not to shy away from quiet times, from the simplicity of prayer, Scripture, and your presence.

We are fearful so often, O Lord, because in our encounters with sin and evil we find ourselves weak and poor. We thank you so much then, Jesus for your actions and for your words-for love and the promise of nearness, which are our strength and our riches.

Amen. -taken from The Worship Sourcebook

CHRISTA'S

CORNER

College Parkers welcomes as our guest Rev. Rodney Stillwell, Senior Chaplain of Forsyth and Jail Prison Ministries, when we meet on February 19 at 11:30 a.m. If you've ever heard Rodney share, you know that it is always a deeply meaningful experience. His faith, dedication, joy and authenticity always speaks volumes to our hearts! Bring a dish and join us!

This has been a season of loss for our church family, in that several of our dear friends have been going on home to heaven... some began their journey a while back and have reached the gates of glory... others stunned us and left suddenly. If the loss comes from a slow decline or a sudden absence, those of us left behind are never fully ready to lose a loved one, because each loss is a road of grief not yet traveled. Some of the roads we travel jut up out of nowhere, leaving us in disbelief that now we have to walk that path. In other situations, we have expected our life's journey to take a certain direction, but it is still all new and hard, leaving family and friends numb at first and then left with a hole in our lives.

How thankful we are as children of God that we can be assured God understands the depth of our pain because of the sacrifice of His Son on our behalf. Who can better understand the depth of our suffering than our Savior who carried our sin in Himself on the cross so that we could have eternal forgiveness and life... let's call out to our God and open our hearts to comfort each other.

We praise God that we do not grieve as those who have no hope, but know our loved ones are healed and whole and that we can see them again. Let us embrace life and not fear death for ourselves, because we know what waits for us is more amazing than what we can imagine!

Blessings,
Christa Wanise
