From Your Pastor...

2010 was a great year in the life of College Park! We have much to give thanks for and to celebrate. We began a new worship service in February that has brought a number of new people into our fellowship, and we have seen our ministries continue to expand. We also had contributions that will meet the entire cost of renovations to our educational building! We will begin the renovations to the bottom floor very soon; but again, the money is already on hand to pay for all floors. And of course our vision is not to renovate buildings, but it is to have a helpful tool as we seek to make disciples of people of all ages!

One challenge that we have encountered is addressed by our Finance Committee's letter that is included as an insert. Please read this letter and consider your own commitment to the Ministry Action Plan of College Park. As the body of Christ, we need everyone to participate in contributing to the resources that are necessary to carry out the Ministry Action Plan that we approved. I have discovered through the years that there are many reasons people do not tithe, and quite frankly none of them are good. You see, it is a matter of discipleship that humbles us before God and gives us joy in giving back to Him a portion of what he has loaned to us. Failing to tithe is a failure to recognize the nature of our relationship with God, and Scripturally speaking is robbing from God (Malachi 3:10)! I challenge each of us this year to forget about resolutions and instead focus on commitment...commitment to our God who is the giver of all we have...commitment to be faithful to Him in all areas of our lives! Please feel free to call me if you have questions about this important area of life stewardship!

See You Sunday!

Blessings and Peace,

Ramon

A NOTE FROM MARY

For more reasons than I can put in this small box, today I am contemplating happiness versus joy. I think most of us have heard in church the difference between the two: happiness is momentary, based on our circumstances; joy is much deeper. It is not dependent upon the circumstances of the moment. It has more to do with being content despite our situation. It is purely spiritual, a gift of God given, not because we have deserved it, but because we trust in Him and know that He reigns and He loves us. It is because of our trust that we can "consider it pure joy whenever you face trials of many kinds (James 2:1)." You see, we don't rejoice because everything in our lives is perfect, we rejoice in the Lord (Philippians 3:1) because of Who He is. However, too often I think we as Christians are guilty of actively seeking happiness instead of seeking God. We look to people to make us happy, and people disappoint. We seek happiness in the material things of the world, and we miss the joy of giving. We seek justice and our own right to be right, and we miss the joy of reconciliation and forgiveness. We seek momentary pleasures, and we miss the joy of eternal things. As we enter this new year, I encourage you to examine whether your life reflects God's well-spring of joy or whether you are busy seeking momentary happiness.

Happy 7th Anniversary to Jeff Allen

Jeff Allen serves as Minister to Students and Families through counseling, visitation, and participation in worship. He directs the planning, coordination, implementation and evaluation of all non-music ministries and programs for preschool through college students. He directs special programs of activities for all students including fellowships, retreats, and camps; coordinates all student and family events, enlists and trains all leaders relating to student and family ministries, works with appropriate committees of the church to address the needs of students and families, and provides direction for all education ministries involving the students and families of the church.

In addition to the many responsibilities mentioned above, Jeff also maintains our church office computer systems. He researches the purchase of needed new equipment, installs it, troubleshoots all our problems and issues. This often requires many hours of his time.

As many of you already know, Jeff has been staff liaison to the Facility Update Committee and has worked countless hours alongside them planning and implementing the renovation of the Education Building, which is now well under way. He began working on this project almost immediately when he came to College Park. Along with Mitch Edmonds, Project Manager, he continues to oversee the progress of the renovations and helps keep the work on schedule. We can never say enough thanks for all he has given above and beyond his job description in this effort.

SENIOR ADULT MINISTRY

College Parkers Thursday, January 20, 11:30 A.M.

The ice cancelled our December lunch, but we will pick up the new year on January 20 with a covered-dish luncheon, beginning at 11:30. "The Group" will be with us again to share their warm hymn singing. Bring a friend.

Happy 4th Anniversary to Teresa Hill

Teresa Hill completed her 4th year as Church Pianist on January 1. Teresa serves as rehearsal and worship service accompanist for the Sanctuary Choir, Youth Choir and Adult Ensemble. In addition, she accompanies the Children's Choirs. She provides service music and hymn accompaniment for Sunday morning services and other seasonal services as needed. She works with the Associate Pastor of Music and Education to plan and prepare for all services and rehearsals. Thank you, Teresa, for your wonderful contributions to our worship experiences.

Job's Mother-in-law

A little over a year ago our good friend, Sandy Mills, went to be with the Lord. Sandy was a writer, poet, philosopher, teacher, singer, and a saint.

Just recently we discovered a supply of two of his publications which we would like to share with you. "Job's Mother-in-law" is an autobiography of a "modern-day" Job whose patience and in some cases his faith, was tested by his mother-in-law. The book provides some guidelines for others who may find themselves in a situation of caring for an elderly mother or father. The second booklet, "Papa's Poems," is a compilation of inspiring and entertaining poems written by Sandy's father, Arthur Mills.

These books are available in the church office. If you would like to make a donation in appreciation and in his memory, please make your check out to Janet Mills.
