

HIGHLIGHTS

College Park Baptist Church
1701 Polo Road, Winston-Salem, NC 27106

There is a buzz in the air... It's the excitement that precedes Summer...school out...lots of activity in family life and church life! It's the same kind of feeling that we experienced together out on the front lawn last Wednesday night. It is the excitement of being a vital body of believers who have a desire to fellowship and worship together...and invite others to be part of this body! It is the excitement of seeing new people come into our church building each week for recreation on Tuesday and Thursday nights. It is the excitement of seeing people return to in person worship after a couple of pretty tough years. It is the excitement that comes best from the Holy Spirit dwelling within us, and bearing witness to those who we minister to daily! It is the excitement that we bring with us as we come to worship each Sunday IF we have prepared our hearts for worship. After a long week at work or at school, do we really prepare our hearts for worship, or do we stumble out the door preoccupied with all that seems to be pulling on our time? Do we enter into the Lord's house with thanksgiving in our hearts, or do we come angry, frustrated, or distracted? You have heard Mary and I both say that if we leave from worship the same as when we came, then we have not truly worshipped. I believe this is true! We cannot come into the presence of a holy God (and I would add "and His people") and not be affected in some manner. In God's presence, our hearts should acknowledge who He is, and who we are in relationship to Him. That is life changing, and I pray for you that you will experience that transformation with us in worship this week...whether it be on Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and/or every other day of the week!

I invite you to be with us each week...prepared to worship as One body...Loving God, and Loving People!

Blessings & Peace,
Ramon

Our Mission...
"A people gathered in Christ; nurtured in His Spirit; and sent in His name."

A NOTE FROM MARY

We live in a society in which we wear our busyness like a badge, like our busyness means we are important and needed. We must be somebody because, look, how busy our lives are! We hurry from place to place. We compare schedules and proclaim all we have yet to do. If we have children, our pace is amplified. We rush from games to performances and activities, mingling schedules, and juggling places to be. We do it in church as well, intermingling the busyness of church with the busyness of our lives outside the church walls. And yet, I have been reminded as of late that Jesus did not rush about from activity to activity. In fact, Jesus often went off by himself to talk with His Father. He took time away from the crowds and busyness to make sure that He and the Father were one. He knew his mission, and He knew the Father's will because He took time away from the busyness of life to ensure that He was spending time with God. Jesus didn't just ask God to bless the things that were keeping Him busy; instead, Jesus, in the middle of doing amazing things, was asking the Father where to go and what to do next. How much more necessary is it for us to do the same? Rather than allow our busyness to keep us from communing with God, we need even more to meet with Him, so we don't rush by Him in the world around us and miss Him completely.

As a reminder, at the April 20th Business Conference, the Personnel Committee announced the hiring of the Center for Healthy Churches (CHC). This is a mission-driven consulting group dedicated to helping congregations and clergy find new life and energy in the 21st century. Their driving motivation is to elevate the spiritual, organizational, and emotional health of churches and clergy. They accomplish this by helping establish a clear vision and focus for the congregation's future, addressing complex issues, enhancing communication, exploring opportunities for growth, and building a strong community. The process entails the CHC consultant meeting with three different groups: the staff, deacons, and a focus group representing a cross section of our members. The purpose is to discuss concerns or issues created, in part, by the pandemic as well as issues predating the pandemic along with the loss of a staff minister. The goal is to be able to address ways to enhance our communication with a recommended path moving forward. Stay tuned for a future update resulting from the work of the CHC.

Music Intern Dynamics

To the families and friends of College Park,

My name is Jacob Andrews, and I am working alongside Mary Keltner this summer as College Park's first music ministry intern. During almost six years at College Park, I have been able to share and utilize my gifts playing keyboard in the Re:Creation worship band, playing French Horn and organ at the 11am service, serving as the Children's Ministry intern during the summer of 2020, and more. I am so excited about God's calling for me this summer to dive headfirst into our music ministry. There is so much in store!

Later this summer, we will be embarking on a week-long music camp where our children will get the opportunity to sing, learn and play new instruments, compete in games, build their own instruments, learn what it means to sing His praise, and more!

The camp will take place from 9am-1pm on July 25th through July 29th. Children who have completed grades K-6th are welcome to come to the camp to play and learn music from many talented youth and adult church members. The cost of camp will be $30 which can be paid on Realm. The Realm sign-ups will be available June 1st. Lunch will be provided every day from 12:00pm-12:30pm. T-shirts will be given out to each camper. As of June 1st, there will also be a sign-up sheet in the garden lobby to register your campers and fill out shirt size information and safety/permission forms. For our preschoolers, the Adventure Club will still be taking place for them on Monday, July 25th. Please, invite your friends too! This will be an unforgettable week!

We are so excited to discover what it means to truly make a joyful noise in the eyes of our Lord, revealed to us through the musical gifts woven into our children. College Park has been blessed with many individuals with God-given musical gifts. At one point, they too were all children who had never sung a note or played an instrument. If Dad has a guitar in the attic, and he hasn't played for ten years, tell him he can come along and participate in the camp too!

We are thrilled and cannot wait for this week together.

With love,

Jacob Andrews
