RAMON'S UPDATES

Two of our youth/children's basketball teams finished the regular season this past Saturday, and two have their final games this Saturday. The Junior Coeds finished the season ranked #1 in their league with a record of 9-1, and will begin tournament play this Saturday. Our Youth Girls team finished the season. They were much improved over last year, and they will begin tournament play this Saturday also. Our Intermediate and Senior Guys teams will both play their final regular season games this Saturday, and will begin tournament play the following week. We are very proud of all of our teams...not only for their quality of play, but because they have all illustrated what sportsmanship is all about! We are also blessed to have wonderful coaches who model this behavior for our young people!

We have also been proud of our Primary Coed Basketball Clinic. An average of 20+ children have been attending every Thursday night for this program, including many guests. This may very well prove to be one of the doors that a family may use to enter our fellowship! Thanks to College Park for providing the resources to make all of these teams possible!

Jeff's Notes

What an odd weekend we just experienced. As many of you know, we had a spur-of-the-moment trip to Los Angeles and needed to leave several things in the capable hands of others. Even though the trip was very exciting, we were anxious about missing out on the events here at College Park over the weekend. To our benefit, most of those things will be rescheduled due to the weather. I am grateful to Danny Lloyd, Jill Knight and the rest of Channels for carrying on in fine fashion on Friday evening for the Sunday School banquet. I have heard glowing reports. As for Sunday morning worship and the Chi Rho/One Accord Concert on Sunday evening, we are planning for both to be shared at a later date. We will use the order of worship planned for last Sunday for our worship on this Sunday, and we are working to reschedule the concert for March or early April. As for our trip, the weather caused the cancellation of our final flight into Greensboro but we were able to rent a car and make the drive yesterday. Jenny, the girls and I look forward to telling you more about it as you ask.
