From Your Pastor...

August 1 is an interesting day in history: William Carey was ordained into the ministry on August 1, 1787; Francis Scott Key, Christian attorney, statesman, Sunday School teacher, and the author of the American national anthem, was born on August 1, 1779; August 1, 1808, marks the birth of Octavius Winslow, powerful nineteenth century pastor and author; August 1, 1834 marks the death of Robert Morrison, 52, first protestant missionary to China; and on August 1, 1834, slavery was abolished throughout the British Empire, largely as a result of tireless abolitionist efforts of British evangelicals! As I pondered these events, it occurred to me that as Christians we have a tremendous responsibility to impact our world in a godly fashion. We live in a time when material blessings are in excess, yet our culture seems to be deteriorating...perhaps there is a cause and effect relationship there! As Christians, we must go back to the basics of making the things of God a priority, and that is the focus of worship this Sunday morning. If you would like a "head-start" on the learning curve, you can read Haggai (it's only two short chapters) before coming Sunday.

Sunday we will also be sharing in a service of baptism and communion together. This is always a very meaningful time, and if you have a friend who is not yet a believer, these services are always good to spark interest and conversation .... so ...

Bring a friend with you and we'll see you this Sunday!

Jeff's Notes

Saints Among Us is the title we began using last year for those of you among our senior adults who find themselves "homebound" for various reasons. We truly view you all as saints and want to continue to show you how important you are to our church family. We will again honor all of our homebound on Saints Among Us Sunday, August 15. On this day, we will make special arrangements to have as many of our homebound members as possible to be present for our worship service and honor you at a luncheon following the service. We will also arrange for visits with any of you who cannot attend on that day. All of our homebound that we are aware of will receive an invitation and additional information in the mail next week. If there are others of you that we are unaware of, who find yourselves in these circumstances at this time, please let us know. Anyone that would like to help with our luncheon or provide transportation, please let me know this week. We want to make this a very special day for all of our church family!
