MUSICAL OFFERING The Weight of the Cross Kirkland/Fettke

The crowd pressed in to see this Man who stood condemned to die,

A Man they once proclaimed as King, they now would crucify.

They laid a cross upon His back, and pushed Him up the road.

The path would lead to Calvary - He fell beneath the load.

And as I watched I understood the burden that He bore was more than just a heavy tree; the weight was so much more.

The weight of the cross was the weight of my sin, not the weight of the tree that was carried by Him. My guilt and disgrace Jesus bore in my place, on Calvary's road, 'neath the weight of the cross.

His face was scarred, His body bruised, His head was crowned with thorns,

The crowd now jeered and cursed His name the object of their scorn.

He never spoke a word to them the silent Lamb of God.

This man of sorrow bore the cross; He chose to carry on.

But somehow in His eyes I saw a love beyond the pain,

As if He knew His sacrifice and loss would be my gain.

ANTHEM He Died for Me Allen

I saw one hanging on a tree, in agony and blood;

He fixed His languid eyes on me, as near His cross I stood.

O can it be, upon a tree the Savior died for me?

My soul is thrilled, My heart is filled, to think He died for me!

Sure, never, till my latest breath, can I forget that look;

It seemed to charge me with His death, though not a word He spoke.

A second look He gave, which said, "I freely all forgive;

This blood is for your ransom paid, I die that you may live."
