SPECIAL NOTE ON ELECTRONICS/PHONES

- No electronic devices are allowed on the trip. This includes cell phones. Parents, this special note on cell phones and electronics is vital to the success of the retreat. These devices have increasingly become distractions for our teenagers. We want them to be able to connect with God while at Caswell. These devices often hinder this primary purpose of our time together. We understand that cell phones have become an excellent way for parents and teenagers to connect for safety and security purposes. Our desire is not to add stress for parents being unable to connect with their teenagers during the week. Therefore, parents are free to contact Jeff or any of the other chaperones if and when you wish to check in. If you have questions, please feel free to ask. Thanks for helping us by following this rule!
